

Press release: New statistics show number of new homes continues to rise

Homes England has today published its latest official housing statistics, which show the number of homes being built in England continued to rise in the first half of this financial year.