

Press release: Norfolk farmer fined for taking water during summer drought

A Norfolk farmer with a history of environmental offending has been fined for taking and using more water than permitted.