

Press release: Not-for-profit music enterprise boss banned for second time

Boss of Ashford-based community interest company has received a second disqualification for continuing to run music initiative despite previous ban.