

Press release: PM meeting with First Minister of Scotland: 3 April 2019

The Prime Minister met with First Minister Nicola Sturgeon to discuss yesterday's Cabinet meetings and the next steps in delivering the UK's exit from the European Union in a smooth and orderly way.

The Prime Minister made clear that this delay and division across the United Kingdom cannot continue and she is meeting with the Leader of the Opposition to find a proposal that can command the support of the House of Commons to allow the UK to leave the EU as soon as possible.

She added that Brexit is a decisive moment in our history and we must come together to deliver for people in Scotland and the whole of the UK.
