

Press release: Property developers banned after abusing £12m of investments

Six directors have been banned for a total of 54 years after they misled more than 300 people to invest £12 million into residential property developments.