

Press release: Significant savings thanks to new pump technology

The Coal Authority expects to make significant cost savings after making major investments in new pump technology.