

Press release: Signs help to identify flood risk car parks

Motorists across the North East can now get information on car parks at risk of flooding in a new project from the Environment Agency and local authorities.