

Press release: Threat of legal action leads to payment of fine over Humber incident

A company and one of its ship masters have paid up fines after being warned their boat could be seized if they didn't pay.