

Press release: UK and Argentina agree new flight linking the Falklands and South America

A landmark agreement to provide an additional flight between South America and the Falkland Islands has been reached between the governments of the UK and Argentina.