

Press release: UK and World Economic Forum to lead regulation revolution to foster industries of the future

New partnership between the UK and World Economic Forum (WEF) to ensure innovators have the environment needed to create and support the industries, products and services of the future.