

Press release: UK co-sponsors a UN resolution to commemorate victims of acts of violence based on religion or belief

On 28 May, the UK joined 87 other states in co-sponsoring a United Nations resolution establishing 22 August as an international day commemorating victims of acts of violence based on religion or belief.