

Press release: UK pushes protections for international marine biodiversity

The UK Government has today reaffirmed its commitment as a leader on international nature conservation at the UN General Assembly.