

Press release: UK veterinary antibiotics sales more than halved over the past six years

Positive results are testament to the cooperation between the farming industry, the veterinary sector and government