

Press Releases: Houthi Missile Attacks in Saudi Arabia

Press Statement
Heather Nauert

Department Spokesperson

Washington, DC
March 26, 2018

The United States strongly condemns the dangerous Houthi missile attacks aimed at several cities in Saudi Arabia Sunday night. Our condolences go out to the families of any who were killed or injured. We support the right of our Saudi partners to defend their borders against these threats. We continue to call on all parties, including the Houthis, to return to political negotiations and move toward ending the war in Yemen.
