

Prime Minister announces merger of Department for International Development and Foreign Office

Prime Minister Boris Johnson announces merger of Department for International Development and Foreign Office.