

Professor Adrian Michael Cruise awarded OBE for services to space

A UK scientist who established the Gravitational Wave Research Group at the University of Birmingham has been recognised in the New Year Honours for services to space, alongside leading figures from UK astronomy.