

Professorship for Animal Welfare expert who begins by asking them the questions

Marie Haskell, a respected animal welfare expert who focuses on what animals tell her about what suits them, has been awarded a Professorship.