

Project helps realise policing dreams

The Hong Kong Police Force's Project Himalaya helps non-ethnic Chinese youths integrate into the community, including two brothers of Pakistani descent who achieved their dream of becoming police officers after joining the project.

News.gov.hk spoke to Police Yuen Long District School Liaison Officer Wong Man-keung about how ethnic minorities can benefit from joining Project Himalaya, while two sibling police constables shared how the project helped give them a competitive edge.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature/ today (November 5) in text and video format.
