Projects for a new research security programme for Europe: call for proposals

The Science and Innovation Network and the British Embassy Bratislava invite proposals and concepts for projects for a new research security programme for Europe.