

Press release: New strategy sets ambitions for a cyber security workforce fit for the future

Talented youngsters interested in cyber security will be given the opportunity to shine.

Press release: New study looks to get better value from public sector intellectual property and know-how

As part of work to get better value from its assets, the Government is working to fully utilise and generate greater value from its intellectual property and know-how such as waterproof smartphone coating and rapid Ebola testing.

Press release: 26,000 share their views in Thames Crossing consultation

The number of responses is a record for a consultation of its type.

Press release: Signs help to identify flood risk car parks

Motorists across the North East can now get information on car parks at risk of flooding in a new project from the Environment Agency and local authorities.

Press release: A Christmas reminder of support available in child abduction cases

Support from the Foreign & Commonwealth Office (FCO) is available for people affected by international parental child abduction.