

Push to better understand sources affecting Bridlington water quality

Environment Agency starts weekly spot sampling to help inform improvements