

RAF's next-generation Remotely Piloted Aircraft takes to UK skies

A pre-production example of the UK's new Protector aircraft has taken to the UK skies as part of preparations for the arrival of Protector to RAF Waddington.