

Record breaking sustainable office building reaches completion

The City of Salford is now home to Eden, one of the UK's most sustainable office buildings, containing Europe's largest living wall.