

Recording of the week: Architect Kate Macintosh discusses Dawson's Heights in East Dulwich

In my spare time I have often pondered what would count as the 'Seven Wonders of South London'. The Catford Cat and the Croydon IKEA towers no doubt, but the Crystal Palace transmitter and the Crystal Palace dinosaurs? And how do you separate the component parts of Greenwich? For this...