

Recording of the Week: Filling in the gaps of the feminist movement in the 1980s – Southall Black Sisters

This week's selection comes from Amal Malik, Community Research Intern for Unlocking our Sound Heritage. Content warning: this blog contains references to domestic violence. This Recording of the Week for International Women's Day looks at the work of Southall Black Sisters activist and case worker Pragna Patel. 'Let's put race...