

Recording of the week: Wind in yacht rigging

This week's post comes from Cheryl Tipp, Wildlife and Environmental Sounds Curator. Wind is usually the bane of a sound recordist's life. It can ruin an otherwise perfect recording. Thankfully, this recording of Scotland's Largs Harbour on an overcast September evening is only improved by the gusty weather. An eerie...