Here is an item of interest to swimmers.

The Leisure and Cultural Services Department announced today (October 6) that the Environmental Protection Department has classified the water quality at Casam Beach in Tsuen Wan District as Grade 2, which means the water quality has improved and the beach is suitable for swimming. The red flag at Casam Beach and Lido Beach has been lowered.

The red flag was hoisted at Casam Beach earlier due to the water quality being classified as Grade 4 and unsuitable for swimming.
