

Regulator disqualifies trustees after finding serious mismanagement at Fashion for Relief

The Charity Commission has today (26 September 2024) published the report of its statutory inquiry into Fashion for Relief, concluding the charity was poorly governed and had inadequate financial management.