

Regulator investigates accountancy charity over failure to submit accounts

The Charity Commission has launched a statutory inquiry into Community Accountancy Self Help over a repeated pattern of failures in submitting accounting information.