

Regulator investigates anti-poverty charity

The Charity Commission's concerns include potential conflicts of interest and related party transactions at Big Help Project.