

Regulator investigates fundraising activity over links to pro-Hamas media outlet

The Charity Commission has launched a statutory inquiry following concerns over how charitable funds have been used by a now sanctioned individual.