

Research and analysis: London basin chalk aquifer annual status report

Updated: 2018 report added.

This report describes current levels of groundwater and abstraction within the London basin chalk aquifer, and why changes may have occurred. It also describes the current abstraction licensing policy and groundwater management issues.