

Research with a global reach

Researchers recently welcomed academics from one of the world's poorest countries to SRUC with the aim of helping their university to develop an agronomy degree.