

Residents of high-rise residential building in Manchester can live at home safely after remediation works conclude

Building safety remediation works have successfully concluded on The Works, a high-rise residential building in Manchester, ensuring a safe environment for all residents.