

Robotic superhero meets identical twin in fusion energy machine

A Jenga-playing robot used to maintain a fusion energy machine has been reunited with its identical superhero twin for the first time since 1999.