

Royal Air Force completes world-first sustainable fuel military transporter flight

The RAF and industry partners have carried out a world-first 100% sustainable fuel flight using a military aircraft of its size, and the first of any aircraft type in the UK.