

Royal Engineers lead training effort to help Ukraine defend its critical national infrastructure

Ukrainian civilian engineers have received training in the UK to learn techniques to protect critical infrastructure from Russian drone and missile attacks