

Royal Navy warships to be boosted with new cutting-edge launchers

UK security will be bolstered through a new contract worth £135 million that will equip the Royal Navy with new decoy launchers to counter missile and drone threats.