

Satellite deal signed for advanced military tech

New Juno satellite to support military operations will be designed and built in the UK.