

Scheme for Admission of Hong Kong Students to Mainland Higher Education Institutions for the 2021/22 academic year enters admission stage

The Education Bureau (EDB) today (July 27) reminded students who have completed their online application and verification for the Scheme for Admission of Hong Kong Students to Mainland Higher Education Institutions (the Admission Scheme) that they should log on to the designated website from July 29 to August 7 to check their admission results, as well as submit and check supplementary enrolment results.

The students concerned should log on to the admission system of the Admission Scheme under the website of the Education Examinations Authority of Guangdong Province (eeagd.edu.cn/hkmslq/ks/) (Chinese version only) to check admission results. Institutions will release first-round admission results in batches in order of priority as follows:

First priority admission results – 8am on July 29 (Thursday)
Second priority admission results – 8am on July 31 (Saturday)
Third priority admission results – 8am on August 1 (Sunday)
Fourth priority admission results – 8am on August 2 (Monday)

Students who meet the minimum entrance requirements (i.e. attainment of Level 3 or above for Chinese Language and English Language and Level 2 or above for Mathematics and Liberal Studies in the Hong Kong Diploma of Secondary Education Examination) but are not admitted in the first round can complete their supplementary enrolment through the admission system online from 4pm on August 2 to 4pm on August 4 (Wednesday). During the supplementary enrolment stage, students can choose two institutions and, for each institution, make four programme choices. Institutions will release supplementary enrolment results in batches in order of priority as follows:

First priority supplementary enrolment results – 8am on August 6 (Friday)
Second priority supplementary enrolment results – 8am on August 7 (Saturday)

Interviews may be arranged for individual programmes during the aforementioned period. Students should pay attention to the notice from relevant institutions or approach the institutions for confirmation.

Students who have been admitted during the first round or supplementary enrolment stage should receive the acceptance letter from their respective institutions by post before September 1. Students who have not received the acceptance letter by the said date may contact the institutions direct. Contact information of the student admission offices of institutions is included in the Institution and Programme Information on the Scheme for Admission of Hong Kong Students to Mainland Higher Education Institutions in 2021 (Chinese Version Only) provided at the EDB's website (edb.gov.hk/admissionscheme21).
