

Minister for Employment urges industry to help un-pause the careers of women in menopause

Menopausal women are the fastest growing demographic in the workforce, and this Older Workers Week (22nd – 28th November), Minister for Employment Mims Davies is calling on employers to strengthen their support to keep milli...

Departments publish modern slavery statements for the first time

Ministerial government departments have published their annual modern slavery statements alongside a progress report on the 2020 modern slavery statement goals.

New UKHSA study provides more safety data on COVID-19 vaccines in pregnancy

Analysis by the UK Health Security Agency in women giving birth has reinforced international evidence that COVID-19 vaccines have good safety record in pregnant women.

Defence Secretary announces Future Soldier for the British Army

Defence Secretary Ben Wallace announces Future Soldier, the British Army's most radical transformation in 20 years.

Health Secretary Emergency Service

Mental Health Symposium speech

The Secretary of State for Health and Social Care Sajid Javid gave a speech at The Royal Foundation's Emergency Services Mental Health Symposium