

Educational publishing merger raises competition concerns

The CMA has found that McGraw-Hill's takeover of competitor Cengage could leave students worse off.

New measures on night time deliveries to supermarkets to support coronavirus response

The government has extended delivery hours for supermarkets and other food retailers to support the industry response to the coronavirus

Academy London seminar: Bystander to Participant – The Victim Journey

Dame Vera will discuss how to enhance the status of victims of crime from passive by-standers, to active participants within the justice system.

Flood risk continues with heavy rain and high tides expected

The Environment Agency reminds communities to check their flood risk and remain prepared to take action if needed.

Women in Innovation 2020: new funding announced

Innovate UK has announced a new wave of Women in Innovation Awards to find and support the UK's most promising female innovators.