

Scottish Secretary attends Dunfermline ceremony to mark new city status

Following a Royal ceremony led by Their Majesties King Charles III and the Queen Consort, the former Fife town is now Scotland's newest city.