

SCS grieves over passing of Customs officers

The Secretary for the Civil Service, Mr Joshua Law, today (January 22) expressed deep sorrow over the passing of three Customs officers who were carrying out duties near Sha Chau last night (January 21).

Mr Law said, "On behalf of the civil service, I offer my deepest condolences to their families. The Civil Service Bureau will offer them all the assistance they may require."

Mr Law also sent his regards to the other two officers who were injured in the incident and wished them a speedy recovery.
