

Second World War soldiers laid to rest before Arnhem 80th anniversary

Two recently-identified British soldiers of the Second World War have been laid to rest with full military honours.