

Secretary of State calls for Competition and Markets Authority to review competition in the home heating market

The Secretary of State for Energy Security and Net Zero has asked the CMA to consider carrying out a review of the home heating appliance market.