

Secretary of State letters to schools about sharing curriculum resources with parents

Letters clarifying schools' responsibilities to share teaching materials with parents, particularly relationships, sex and health education (RSHE) resources.