

Security boss fined for ignoring industry regulator

A security company director has been fined for failing to provide information to the Security Industry Authority (SIA).