

Sellafield construction project brings in new digital experience

One of our largest major projects is successfully using digital modelling to accelerate project delivery.