

Sensing success: £2 million in contracts awarded to fund remote sensing technologies

Four innovative organisations have been awarded funding to develop cutting edge remote sensing innovations for defence, security and nuclear decommissioning applications.